Read, Try, Decide, on the Charge of Washington, That Leading Federalists Are to Monarchy Devoted In the first place, it cannot be denied that there are men in the country, who prefer a monarchical, or aristocratical form of government to our democratical form. We all know that in our revolutionary war, we had many tories, who still advocated the cause of monarchy. And we further know, that after the close of that war, citizens were found deluded enough to still hanker after the trappings of monarchy. General Washington, in a letter to Mr. Jay, dated about 1785, says - I am told that even respectable characters speak of a monarchical form of government, without horror. And the papers of those limes mention that thoughts were extensively entertained of introducing monarchy, and sending to England for the Bishop of Osnaburg, now the famous Duke of York, the second son of George III. to be our King. So far were these ideas carried, that in 1787, while the Convention for forming a constitution for the United States were sitting at Philadelphia, reports were in circulation that the Convention intended framing a monarchy, and making the said Bishop of Osnaburg the King. These facts show that at a former period, the advocates of monarchy in this country were numerous and bold. And can we believe that the royal race has become extinct? We cannot. We shall always find a set of men hungry for monarchical banquets. These men think, that if a monarchical government were introduced, they should be the favorites of his gracious majesty the King; and of course, would enjoy the fat things...
