

Making the Masters: Bobby Jones and the Birth of America's Greatest Golf Tournament

By David Barrett

Skyhorse Publishing, United States, 2016. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. The origin story of the most monumental golf event in the world. Held the second weekend in April each year since 1934, the Masters is the world's most prestigious golf tournament and most-watched tournament on television. Tickets are in such demand that even the waiting list is closed, and players value the title above all others. In Making the Masters, award-winning golf writer David Barrett focuses his attention on how the Masters was conceived, how it got off the ground in 1934, and how it fully established itself in 1935. The key figure in the tournament's creation and success was Bobby Jones, who was a living legend after winning the Grand Slam in 1930 and immediately retiring at the age of twenty-eight. He went on to found Augusta National and sought a high-profile tournament for his new course. But nearly as important was Clifford Roberts, a banker friend of Jones who not only embraced Jones's vision, but also became his right-hand man in working to bring that vision to reality. Barrett explores how Jones and Roberts built the...
